The timing of the exam according to the local time of the State of Egypt.

- Username: University number
- Password: National ID / Iqama number.

If THE link is opened for the postponed course, the attempt will be counted for the student even if the exam is not submitted.

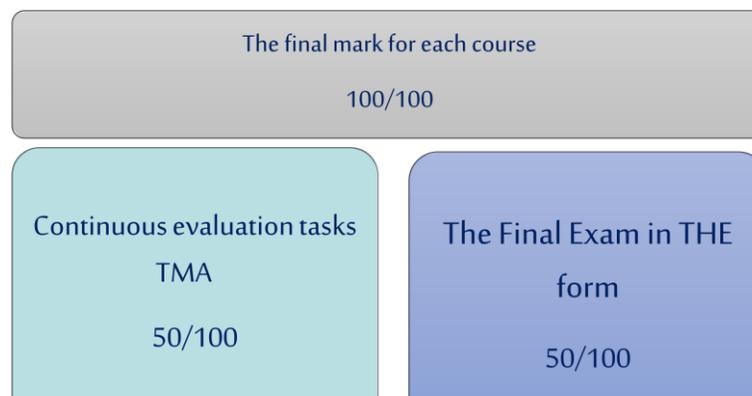

In the event that the student takes the THE exam without paying fees for the exam from one branch to another, a financial liability will be imposed in the amount of (431.25 Saudi riyals).

What is (THE)?

- It is a way to evaluate performance that is well-known internationally and it is mix between homework and Open Book. It will be an alternative of final exams.
- It has been formed with standards that measure the same as the learning outcomes for Final Exams. Therefore, it includes all of the subjects in the course.

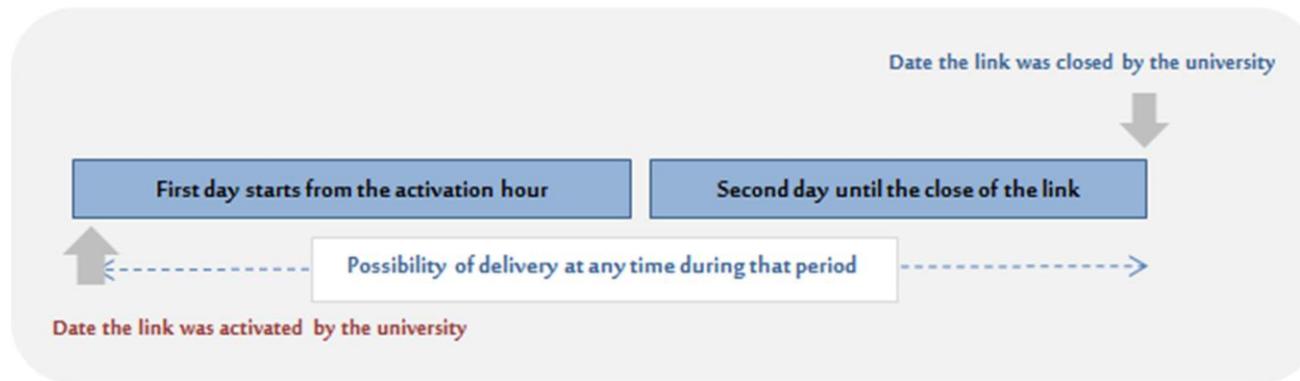

How many marks

- 50 marks has been allocated for THE. The marks of the course shall be distributed as follows in the diagram:

When do I get THE and when do I submit it?

- The link will be activated for all of your registered courses via your account (LMS). This will be in the date and time that are determined in the announced schedule from the Examination department.
- You can submit THE from the first hour of activating the link until 48 hours from the activation (look at the diagram below).
- The submission of THE link will be closed 48 hours after the university upload and activate it (not from the time you activate the link).
- The date and time of closing the submission link for each course are determined in the announced schedule from the Examination department

What is the form that I have to use to answer THE?

- You have to use (doc.) in submitting the file for all the files in order to make your answers acceptable. The answers must be typed not written in hand writing or not inserted as an image and so on. Otherwise, the answers are not counted, the marks will not be taken. There will be no other chance

Can I revise my answer after submitting THE?

- It is allowed to upload THE only one time. Therefore, you have to revise your answers very well before submitting.

How does the university check my answers and their accuracy?

- The university uploads your THE on the Turnitin system to examine the similarity within it. In case there was any similarity in the answers, the student will be prevented from the mark and follow the written accredited procedures in the university.
- The university has a right to contact you via video call to discuss your answers if needed.

Is documentation required in THE?

- No, no documentation
- Your answers do not need any documentation or mentioning the references.
